

Heavy Metal and Brock Brock Broccoli Island

There was a crab and he was booming everyone away and putting on a show. Well, it was a very big crab named "Heavy Metal". He was like a boat that goes underwater. So what happened is a dangerous shark came and it was a slow one so Heavy Metal jumped underwater and swam through the water. An owl came and saved him. He flew over the water and lifted him up upside down and he landed on the beach. And then he was saved. And then a "buried in the water monster" came in the water and he swam up to the beach and tried to get the crab but he couldn't get on top of the beach. He was a big monster and had red hair and green skin. His name was "Brock Brock Broccoli Island".

So the "buried in the water monster" made a roaring sound and was sleeping upside down in the water. He lived on Broccoli Island so he could get broccoli in the trees. His favorite foods were broccoli and bananas and vegetables. His favorite thing to do was mix up batter and make chocolate chip muffins and Banana bread. He gives the muffins to people. He wasn't bad but he was kinda naughty here and there.
